

Continuing Education Credits

Attending the Destinations International 2024 Annual Convention and Summits provides continuing education (CE) credits towards CDME recertification. To earn the maximum number of credits for each event, you must have:

- Attended all keynote general sessions, and
- Attended all educational session time slots

Please note that on-demand replay of recorded sessions does not count towards CDME recertification requirements.

The 2024 Annual Convention (July 16-18, 2024) is approved for up to 10 CDME continuing education (CE) credits not including the pre-conference sessions.

- Each pre-conference event on July 16, 2024 is approved for CDME CE credits. Credit will only be given for attendance at one pre-conference event.
  - The Expedia Marketing Masterclass is approved for up to three (3) CDME CE credits
  - The Civitas Funding Forum is approved for up to three (3) CDME CE credits
  - The Feeding Tampa Bay Activity is approved for up to three (3) CDME CE credits
- Each keynote session is worth one (1) CE credit, for up to three (3) CE credits if attending all keynote sessions.
- Each breakout session is worth one (1) CE credit, for up to seven (7) CE credits if attending all breakout session time slots.
- Each CEO Lounge session is worth one (1) CE credit, for up to seven (7) CE credits if attending all CEO Lounge time slots.

The 2024 Marketing and Communications Summit (February 27-29, 2024) is approved for up to 13 CDME continuing education credits.

The 2024 CEO Summit (April 2-4, 2024) is approved for up to 14 CDME CE credits.

The 2024 Convention Sales and Services Summit (April 8-9, 2024) is approved for up to six (6) CDME continuing education credits.

The 2024 Visitor Services Summit (July 16, 2024) is approved for up to six (6) CDME CE credits.

The 2024 Advocacy Summit (October 22-24, 2024) is eligible for up to 19 CDME CE credits, including the pre-conference sessions.

The 2024 Business Operations Summit (October 28-30, 2024) is approved for up to 13 CDME CE credits.

The 2024 Social Inclusion Summit (October 28-30, 2024) is approved for up to 13 CDME CE credits.